

2022 RATES AND PROMOTIONS

Valid from 1 January - 31 December 2022

Restoring the Kalahari through sustainable conservation, informed by research, supported by ecotourism.

Tswalu's remote location in the southern Kalahari offers the ultimate off-the-beaten-track escape. From the landmark Korannaberg mountains to the grassy, red sand dunes rippling away to the horizon, this vast tract of privately owned wilderness in the green Kalahari is at the forefront of sustainable ecotourism in South Africa. As a fellow member of The Long Run, Tswalu's sustainability journey is focused on the four key areas of conservation, community, culture and commerce. The reserve is first and foremost an ambitious conservation project that funds numerous research projects, geared towards understanding and conserving key species within the Kalahari ecosystem.

Guaranteed access to a private vehicle, guide and tracker provides guests with the freedom and flexibility to explore the green Kalahari's diverse, game-rich habitats - always with unlimited time at sightings. On a Tswalu safari, time and space are the true luxuries. Besides day and night game drives, complimentary activities include nature walks, animal tracking, horse riding, stargazing, dune breakfasts, sleeping out under the stars, and spending time with habituated meerkats. With accommodation for a maximum of 28 guests at the Motse camp and Tarkuni homestead, our high-value approach to sustainable ecotourism helps fund the vital conservation work that is at the heart of this noble project to restore the southern Kalahari for future generations.

PAYMENTS & CANCELLATION POLICY

It's an understatement to mention that the travel industry is in a crisis that will have consequences for years to come. This has affected each and every one of us, and we share the same challenges and concerns. In the safari context, the incremental conservation gains achieved over the years could be eroded unless we remain focused and committed to our long-term vision of preserving wilderness for the next generation. Every new or returning guest will continue to contribute to the sustainability of our conservation legacy.

To this end we have amended our standard terms and conditions to give our guests the opportunity to reserve their Tswalu experience without the long-term concern of losing their deposit as a result of Covid-19 travel restrictions. All advanced deposits are held in a separate account with a refund guarantee, thereby offering complete security of funds.

30 days prior to arrival	balance of payment

Our cancellation policy is applicable regardless of whether payments have or have not been received by Tswalu, and applies to all reservations. The deposit and payment policy excludes trade partners with pre-approved credit facilities.

NOTE: Flight bookings are included in the definition of 'booking', for the purposes of this agreement and Tswalu's cancellation policy. Spa reservations cancelled on the day of the scheduled treatment will incur 100% cancellation fee.

Tswalu reserves the right to change these terms and conditions at any time. In the event that any changes are made, the revised terms and conditions will be communicated to you and shared on our website.
